

Boston
State Capitol Building

THE STATE HOUSE IN WINTER on the Freedom Trail, Boston, Massachusetts

The "new" State Capitol Building with its golden dome was built on Beacon Hill in 1795 by Charles Bulfinch. Visitors may tour the State House and see the Hall of Flags, many interesting paintings and monuments, and the "Sacred Cod" symbolic of the area's early livelihood. The building is directly across the street from Boston Common, the oldest public park in America.
